

Now Hiring: Diabetes Educator Full-Time in Prince George BC

We are seeking a committed and knowledgeable Diabetes Educator to join a mobile healthcare team serving rural and remote First Nations communities in Northern British Columbia. This role offers a unique opportunity to provide direct client care, health promotion, and education, while contributing to improved diabetes outcomes and community wellness.

Key Responsibilities:

- Provide diabetes education and care across the lifespan (Pre-Diabetes, Gestational Diabetes, Type 2, and high-risk individuals).
- Conduct point-of-care testing, vision screening, and follow-up visits.
- Review and maintain client medical histories; communicate findings to primary care providers.
- Collaborate with other healthcare professionals to develop care plans and coordinate services.
- Deliver individual and group education sessions using culturally relevant approaches.
- Support community awareness initiatives such as conferences, workshops, and health events.
- Compile and manage health records and statistical reports.
- Advocate for clients and act as a resource to other healthcare staff.

Important Skills and Requirements:

- Registered Nurse with current registration in good standing.
- Certified Diabetes Educator designation, or willingness to work towards competency.
- Demonstrated knowledge of diabetes testing, diagnosis, and management practices.
- Experience in a clinical health setting or cross-cultural health promotion environment.
- Strong communication, interpersonal, and organizational skills.
- Knowledge of First Nations culture, traditions, and adult learning approaches.
- Valid driver's license and ability to travel to rural and remote communities.
- Clear Criminal Record Check (renewable every three years).

Schedule:

- This is a full-time position 37.5 hr work week requiring travel to rural and remote communities. Some evening and weekend work may be required.

To Apply: Please follow instructions below carefully and ensure you meet and supply the minimum requirements. This is NOT a travel contract.

What's in it For You?

Empower Change. Deliver Care. Grow with Purpose.

With competitive wages and the chance to make a real difference, this role offers more than a paycheck — it offers impact and growth:

Compensation & Lifestyle Benefits:

- Extended health, dental, vision, life insurance, and disability coverage (employer benefits package)
- Wage range between $49 and $63 depending on experience in Diabetes Educator role.
- Mental health supports and access to Employee & Family Assistance Programs
- Paid vacation and personal/cultural leave
- Flexible scheduling with travel days built into the work cycle
- Relocation Assistance Negotiable

Professional Benefits:

- Skill Diversification: Provide care across prevention, screening, chronic disease management, and community health promotion
- Impactful Contribution: Support First Nations communities with culturally safe and holistic diabetes education and care
- Career Growth: Opportunity to achieve or maintain Certified Diabetes Educator (CDE) status with support for ongoing professional development
- Networking: Collaborate with primary care, mental health teams, community health workers, and leadership across Northern BC
- Problem-Solving: Strengthen adaptability by delivering care in remote and resource-limited settings
- Competitive Edge: Build unique experience in Indigenous health, telemedicine, and community-driven care models

This is a role where your knowledge and compassion directly change lives. You'll expand your skills, grow professionally, and contribute to lasting wellness in First Nations communities.

To Apply: Please follow instructions below carefully and ensure you meet and supply the minimum requirements. This is NOT a travel contract.
